BRIBERY HEARING CLASH.

DISCORD AT THE INQUIRY INTO CHARGES AT HARRISBURG.

Besolutions Adopted Involving a Course of Procedure Distanteful to Anti-Quay Men Probable Appeal to the House to Annul the Action Taken by the Committee.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 2.-The Investigating Committee named by Speaker Farr to inquire into the charges of bribery and corrupt solicitation in connection with the passage of the McCarrell Jury bill through the House met to-night. The seasion was short and the adjournment was taken until after the meet ing of the House to-morrow. There were sev eral spley exchanges among the members that caused a ripple of excitement in the crowd that thronged the committee room in anticipation of disslosures.

The committee is strongly favorable to Senator Quay in its composition. As originally constituted it was composed of Mesars. Kreps Chairman, and Voorhees, Republicans, both of whom are supporters of Senator Quay. The Democratic members were Mr. Tighe and Capt, Skinner, who are credited with Quay avm pathies and who voted in favor of the Mc Carrell bill. The only anti-Quay Republican is Gen. Koontz, who introduced the resolutions calling for the investigations and creating the committee. Capt. Skinner has since resigned owing to the public clamor over his resigned owing to the nublic clamor over his appointment and the resurrection of alleged occurrences in his past career in the Legislature. The vacancy has not yet been filled.

The first tilt came almost immediately after the members had been called to order. Mr. Voorhees offered a set of reacolutions for the government of the committee in its proceedings. The intent of these was that all charges should be filled in writing, and that no one should be allowed to testify until the accused was present to make answer to the allegations. Another provision was that at least twelve hours, notice shall be given to the Chairman of the names of persons against whom charges are made.

hours' notice shall be given to the Unairman of the names of persons against whom charges are made.

"I must object to these resolutions," said Gen. Koontz. "They will cause delay and defeat the very purpose for which this committee was named." Mr. Voorhees declared that, "in fairness to the accuser and accused, they should have equal rights."

A brief but heated passage fellowed between these two members. "Let me tell you now and give you fair warning," said Gen. Koontz, addressing the Chairman, "that if the resolutions are adopted I shall be compelled to go before the House to morrow and ask its assistance in forcing this committee to do its duty," He was interrupted by the Chairman, who requested Gen. Koontz to confine his remarks to the matter under discussion, "and to not with becoming courtesy."

"I am acting with more courtesy than that which actuated the Chairman when he was compelled to publicly apologize on the floor of the House for classing those who opposed him as a band of political cutthroats," was the reply. "I anticipated this very course by the committee to-night," continued Gen. Koontz.

"When certain information came to my knowledge this afternoon I was the reliably informed.

When certain information came to my knowl gethis afternoon I was then reliably informed t Speaker Farr had sought the influence certain ones smong the anti-Quay leaders favor postponement of any action to-nig refusal on their part was followed by reat that the quorum would be broken

Again there was confusion as these point-blank statements fell like hot shot in the camp of the enemy. Chairman kreps said he was pledged by his oath of office to a full and fair inquiry and Mr. Voorhees added that such was his curpose in presenting the resolutions.

"Then give me the wivilege of calling my witnesses who are here in this room and ready to swear to the amount of money offered them to support this McCarrell bill, said Gen. Koontz. "This is due me in common justice to support my position in calling for this investigation." Chairman Krees replied that if the resolu-

Chairman Krevs recited that if the resolutions were adouted he would have to abide by the rules which they prescribed. Gen. Krootz renewed his threat of appealing to the House to-morrow. The resolutions were adopted, Gen. Koontz only voting in the negative. Resolutions covering some further details were also introduced by Mr. Tishe and adopted. The committee then adjourned until to-morrow attaches.

also introduced by Mr. Tighe and adopted. The committee then adjourned until to-morrow afterneon.

It is confidently expected that some action will be taken by the House to-morrow either dismissing it by the addition of new members. They would be named by the House Crists of North-umberland, Smith of Cameron and Engle of Lycoming, three Democratic members of the House, were present in obedience to a sub-neona issued by Gen. Koontz to-day.

Senator Quav left this afterneon for Washington. After the adjournment of Cougress it is understood to be his intention to go to Florida. For a formight or longer, Before leaving town the Senator and Gov. Stone spent half an hour in the company of Congressman Sibler at the Bolton House, where Sibley is now confined to his room threatened with meamonia. Col. Guffey, the Democratic leader, also left the capital this afterneon, going to Philadelphia and thence to his home in l'ittsburg. Before leaving the city he expressed in entire confidence in the loyalty of the Democratic members, who, he said, cannot be tempted under any condition to support Senator Quay.

Madrid, March 2.—The Queen Regent has consulted Gen. Martinez Campos, Gen. Azcarraga and Sefor Silvela regarding the Cabinet situation. At another time he compelled her to sleep on the floor in a cold room, and once he locked her in the kitchen. He neglected her when her children were born, she said, and on one of these occasions he went away on a bloyde trip of several days duration. They were married in 1851 and Mrs. Tubbs testified yesterday that while they were camping at Lake Pleasant in the Adiron-dacks in 1845 her husband continually abused her parents, and when she retorted on one occasion he threw her down, kneeled on her breast and throttled her to prevent her screaming. She managed to attract the attention of other, campers nearby and they rescued her locked the piano to prevent her playing and ences has not been announced, it is almost certain that Gen. Martinez Campos advised her to continue Sefior Sagasta in office with the present Parliament, while, on the other hand, Señor Silvela, the Conservative leader, is presumed to have advised a change of policy. There is every probability of the continuation of the ministry of Senor Sagasta, who is being warmly supported by Senor Romero Robledo Gen. Weyler, and even the Republicans.

This evening the situation remained unchanged. After a conference with the Queen Regent, Señor Romero Robledo declared that only a Sagasta Ministry is possible because i carries the sympathies of the elements led by Gen. Weyler and Señors Canalejas and Robledo and also of the Republicans, while Señor Silvela is supported, outside of his own followers, only by the partisans of Gen. Poinvieja. Tubbs began suit in this city to recover the child, but the application was denied, though he was permitted to see the child at intervals.

The Rev. Frederick N. Rutan, who in 1894-15 was pastor of Grace Presbyterian Church in Montolair, testified that he knew Mr. Tubbs and had takked with him over his ideas, one of which was that a husband should be head of the family, and should administer discipline to the wife just as he should to the children. Mr. Rutan said that he was in the camp in the Adirondacks in 1895, and responded to Mrs. Tubbs's cries for help. Her face was in a pitiable condition. It was bruised, bleeding and swollen. Tubbs told him to keep off and not interfere. Mrs. Rutan followed and corroborated her husband's testimony.

Mrs. Tubbs is the daughter of a wealthy mahogany dealer named Bartlett of this city. LONDON, March 2.-In the House of Lords to-day Lord Salisbury expressed his sense of the great loss which the House and the coun try had suffered through the death of Lord Herschell. His death, the Premier said, was very pathetic from any point of view, but it was the more so when it was considered that he died, apart from all those he loved and by whom he was beloved, in a foreign capital with the work in which he was deeply interwas murdered on Wednesday in the rooms she

His death meant the less of a very grand public servant whose peculiar abilities made his place hard Lord Salisbury also spoke of Lord Herschell's great popularity, "especially with our kindred race on the other side of the Atlantic, which pointed him out for the duties he was so willing at great sacrifice to undertake." The Earl of Kimberley followed Lord Salis bury and showed great emotion as he spoke

After mentioning the personal friendship which existed between himself and Lord Herschell, he paid a high tribute to his great abilities. Lord Herschell was one, he said, who commanded the respect alike of friends and foes and his loss is almost irreparable. Lord James, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lan-caster, who was one of Lord Herschell's oldest personal friends, said that in one of the last conversations he had with Lord Herschell the latter told him that he was wearied and worn out. His whole system was overworked, and

THE BOARD OF CLAIMS.

A Desirable State Office Which Is to Be come Vacant on March 13 Next.

The term of the Judges of the Board of Claims of the State of New York is six years, and as now constituted the board consists of two Republican members and one Democrat. The Republican members are former Lieut,-Gov. Charles T. Saxton, who is the presiding Judge, whose home residence is at Clyde in Wayne county, and John F. Parkhurst, whose residence is at Bath, Steuben county who is the Steuben district member of the Republican State Committee, representing the Twenty-ninth Congressional district, which consists of Steuben. Chemung, Schuyler and Beneca counties. The Democratic member of the board is former Judge William M. Beeb of Monticello, Sullivan county. He was one of the original Judges appointed at the time of the establishment of the board and has been a member continuously since. His present term expires on March 13 and there is aiready member continuously since. His present term expires on March 13 and there is already a considerable scramble among aspirants for the bost, which is considered most desirable. The Board of Claims was established by an act passed by the Legislature in 1885 authorizing the Governor, with the assent of the Senate to appoint three persons, residents of the State, as Commissioners of Claims for whom two, and no more, should be practicing attorneys and counsellors of the Supreme Court, the persons so appointed to constitute the Board of Claims. The first Commissioners were to hold office for two, four and six years respectively, and vacancies as they decurred were to be filled by the Governor and Senate for the term of six years. The Governor may remove any Commissioner within the term for which he shall have been appointed, but before so doing he shall give him a conv of the charzes against him and an opportunity of Albany, in each year, and may hold adjourned sessions at such other places in the State as it may deem necessary.

The Commissioners have jurisdiction to hear, audit and determine all private claims against the State which shall have accrued within two years prior to the time when the claim was filed, the same not being barred by existing statutes, and to allow thereon such sums as should be naid by the State. The Commissioners have power to runish for contempt in like cases and in like manner as the Supreme Court. Where the amount in controversy exceeds $500, either party feeling itself aggrieved by the award of the board may appeal to the Court of Appeals upon queetions of law only, which court may affirm, reverse, modify or dismiss the appeal, or order a new hearing before the Board of Claims. Chapter 60 of the Laws of 1884 vested in the Board of Claims all the jurisdiction and power to hear and determine claims against the State formerly possessed by the Canal Appraisers and the State Board of Audit. The Attorney-General is required to attend, in person or by deputy, each session on behalf of the Stat sary expenses not to exceed $500 for each Commissioner. They are suthorized to appoint a clerk, deputy clerk, a stenographer and a messenger. The expenses of the commission are about $30,000 ayear, and in matters of controversy arising from contracts given by the State the Board of Claims is a serviceable adjunct to the financial department of the State, and a satisfactory substitute in many cases for the judicial branch. Prior to 1883 there existed a Board of Canal Appraisers and a Board of Audit, but the Board of Claims was intended to superseds both and simultaneously with its establishment the Board of Canal Appraisers was abolished.

WHERE IS MABEL CONNOR?

SHE REACHED THE CITY FROM HUD-SON, N. Y., AND VANISHED. Got Off the Train at 125th Street by Mistake,

Apparently, and No One Has Seen Her Since-Was Coming to Visit Relatives, and They and Her Parents Are Frantic. Mabel Connor, 15 years old, started vesterday morning at 10 o'clock from her home, 231 Union street, in Hudson, N. Y., to come to this city to visit her sister Jennie, who lives with her aunt, Mrs. Jane Jordan, in the Marshall flats at 117 West Fifteenth street. Mabel is a student in the Hudson High School and recently had been in poor health on account of overstudy. On the advice of a physician her parents decided to send her to this

Mabel should have arrived at the Grand Cer. tra Station at 1:15 o'clock and Jennie waited for her there. She was not among the passengers who got off the train, and in great perturbation Miss Connor reported her disappearance to the railroad officials. They toldr that her sister might have got off the train the 125th street station and sent her up there.

At the 125th street station she finally found the conductor who had been in charge of the train that brought Mabel to this city. The conductor gave her a good description of her sister and said that he had seen her alight from the train at 125th street. He added that she seemed to be undecided which way to go. Miss Connor then went to the East 126th street police station, and the following alarm was sent out from there:

law. Secretary Long ordered a board, which began work preparing a list showing the changes made in the register and giving the standing of officers as they take rank under the measure. This list was completed to-night, and it is intended to-morrow, if the nominations can be made out in time, to forward to the Senate the names of all officers who are promoted under the terms of the bill. Secretary Long desires that those officers be confirmed if possible, subject to examination, before the session closes.

The bill makes both Sampson and Schley Rear Admirals, regardless of whether their confirmations are secured or not under the war appointments. In anticipation, however, that the Senate will not act on the two cases, appointments have been made out at the Navy Department for the President's signature, advancing both Sampson and Schley to the numbers in the grade of Rear Admiral they would hold if confirmation of appointments had been secured previous to the adoption of the Personnel bill. Under this measure ten Commodores at once become Rear Admirals.

The police, however, had heard nothing of Mabel. A number of hotels and boarding houses were visited, but no trace could be found of her. The news of the girl's disappearance was telegraphed to her parents in Hudson, and the reply was sent that she had left Hudson as expected. The father and mother were frantle, and sent many telegrams during the day to Mrs. Jordan, who became hysterical herself, and sent back as many answers.

I fear that she may have forgotten the address and that she is wandering about the city. Our only hope is that she has stopped at some boarding house or hotel for the night and will be able to find us in the morning."
